The ALBION QUARTET are back focussing on Dvořák.

A shared belief in the communicative power of the string quartet has brought together four outstanding performers of their generation.

The ALBION QUARTET feels a particular affinity for the chamber music of Antonin Dvořák. Their debut recordings of Dvořák's quartets will be released in 2018, the first in a series of discs for Signum Records.

BURYING THE DEAD

More than a concert, 'Burying the Dead' will provide an exciting glimpse into life in Restoration London, through the deathbed testimony of Henry Purcell; written by scriptwriter Clare Norburn.

The piece will occupy the borders between a play and a concert as Purcell gives us his deathbed testimony. Purcell will conjure up the two singers and musicians of CERULEO to his bedside. Together they will take the audience on a journey back through Purcell's memories of theatrical intrigues and into his internal dreamworld, as he confronts imagined key childhood memories of 1666.

CERULEO formed in 2014 at The Guildhall School of Music & Drama, and were delighted to be invited back as Artist Fellows for 2016-17. They have performed both at home and abroad, including concerts as part of the Brighton Early Music Festival, at St John's Smith Square and live on BBC Radio 3's 'In Tune'.

The JUBILEE STRING QUARTET were first prize winners of the Val Tidone International Chamber Music Competition 2010 and the St Martin's Chamber Music Competition 2013. They also won prizes at the Karol Szymanowski International String Quartet Competition 2014, and Trondheim International Chamber Music Competition 2013. The quartet were finalists in the Royal Over-Seas League Competition 2013 and 2015.

This prize-winning Quartet was formed in 2006 at the Royal Academy of Music. We welcome them for the first time to Concerts in the West.

Born in 1991 in London, ALEXANDER ULLMAN studied at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia and the Royal College of Music, London. In October 2017 Alexander won 1st Prize at the 11th Liszt International Competition in Utrecht. He immediately embarked on a tour of the Netherlands, making his debut at the Concertgebouw.

Born in Bulgaria, MICHAEL PETROV studied at the Yehudi Menuhin School and at the Guildhall School of Music & Drama, winning the Gold Medal in 2014 and the Wigmore Hall Prize in 2017. Nominated by the Barbican as ECHO Rising Star in 2015, Michael has performed widely in Europe appearing at major concert halls including the Concertgebouw Amsterdam.

We are delighted to welcome them both back to the depths of the West Country.

The CONCERTS IN THE WEST series of MINI-TOURS offers a broad spectrum of CLASSICAL and BAROQUE chamber music.

CONCERTS IN THE WEST was started in 2006 and as with many organisations it has grown in the work that it undertakes and has many plans for the future, particularly in the area of education. We feel that there is an audience for Classical Music of all types, but it has to be nurtured early, even if it takes some years to bring the two together. We are delighted to be working with the Centre for Young Musicians, Taunton this year.

CONCERTS IN THE WEST aims to bring talented young musicians to small venues in the West Country in areas that may not have easy access to music of this quality.

Small intensive tours, in Devon, Dorset and Somerset, are arranged for the musicians over a few days, when they have the opportunity to work on new repertoire, or to embed works more fully, ready for major concerts elsewhere.

The enthusiasm and skill of these young people is breathtaking and has come about through many years of study (at least to postgraduate level), dedication and hard work.

The music played at the concerts is enormously varied and gives local audiences a wonderful opportunity to hear both familiar and unusual works for voice and instrument in many combinations.

A LEGACY TO CONCERTS IN THE WEST

In addition to buying tickets some of you give CONCERTS IN THE WEST financial help for which we are most grateful. Such help is crucial in keeping the series of tours in existence from year to year.

However, taking a longer term view of CONCERTS IN THE WEST it would be enormously helpful if you would consider leaving the organisation a legacy under your Will. Your solicitor will advise on the wording to be used but it could be as simple as 'I give free of tax to Concerts in the West Ltd charity number 1139301 the sum of £ [] to be used for its general charitable purposes and I declare that the receipt or treasurer or other proper officer shall be a full and sufficient discharge'.

Alternatively, a fraction or percentage of residue of your estate could be left to CONCERTS IN THE WEST, the exact wording of which should be as advised by your solicitor to make sure maximum tax advantage is gained in your estate.

I would only add that if you do intend to leave a cash legacy, it would also be very generous of you if the amount could be indexed say to RPI as people frequently leave a reconsideration of their Will for many years at a time.

With many thanks indeed to those who take this step.
